

Week Beginning Monday 11th May 2020

Welcome to week 4 of your home learning! I hope that you all continue to stay safe and happy. It has been great to catch up with some of you over the phone! In writing this week, I would like you to write some reviews. First, we will review a book that you all know very well before you choose something to review yourself. We will also be thinking about keeping our minds healthy during challenging times, creating a collage in art and discovering more about amazing Viking boats.

DAY	MATHEMATICS	ENGLISH TASKS FOR THIS WEEK	OTHER SUBJECT TASKS
Monday	Visit the White Rose website and select this week From each daily lesson you can also access the BBC's BiteSize lessons for the same topic. Today's Lesson : Area of rectangles	Look at your spellings for this week and complete your first Write/Cover activity. Can you use each of this week's spelling in a sentence? You may need to define the word using a dictionary or using the internet.	PSHE - Today we are going to be thinking about your wellbeing – feeling emotionally and physically good. Can you write a set of instructions for someone to help with their wellbeing during the lockdown? You can decorate the page when you have finished.
Tuesday	Visit the White Rose website and select this week From each daily lesson you can also access the BBC's BiteSize lessons for the same topic. Today's Lesson : Equivalent Fractions	This week we are going to be thinking about writing a review. This is a non-fiction piece. What is the purpose of a review? What does a review need to say? What kind of language do you need to use? Who is a review for? Complete the activity to answer these key questions.	French Can you use what you learned last week about French weather words to complete the crossword? This week I'd like you to try and have a brief conversation with someone at home about the weather, in French!
Wednesday	Visit the White Rose website and select this week From each daily lesson you can also access the BBC's BiteSize lessons for the same topic. Today's Lesson Convert between improper and mixed numbers	Today we are going to plan a review. Here you will gather all the information you need to write your own review. First, we are going to review something you are all very familiar with, The Wreck of the Zanzibar. Use the planning sheet to organise your ideas.	Art - This week I would like you to make a collage. You can use whatever materials you like, but I would like the collage to relate to the Vikings in some way. Maybe an image of a ship, or a warrior? Remember that the materials you use could come from outdoors too!
Thursday	Visit the White Rose website and select this week From each daily lesson you can also access the BBC's BiteSize lessons for the same topic. Today's Lesson Compare and Order Fractions less than One	Today you are going to write a review for The Wreck of the Zanzibar using your planning sheet from yesterday and a template that I have attached. Make sure you include all of the relevant information in your plan.	History You have all identified that the Vikings were master sailors, as well as being excellent shipbuilders. This week you will be finding out more about Viking long ships when you work through the activity.
Friday	Visit the White Rose website for this week. Try the Friday BiteSize challenge. Also, complete your Times Tables Rock Stars challenges and the Arithmetic task which is on the school website.	Today I would like you to review something of your choice. It could be a game, film, TV programme or book. You can use the template from yesterday if you choose, or work independently. I can't wait to see what you review! It's also the end of the week so don't forget to have an adult test your spellings!	PE - Could you make a poster showing the benefits of your favourite form of lockdown exercise? Your poster should be show what kind of exercise you're promoting, instructions on how to do it if needed and be an attractive design! You could even include a photo of yourself getting active!
