

Well year Six, here we are at the end of such an amazing journey. I must admit to feeling extremely proud. This week we will be looking at Celebration – how and why it is important to celebrate and trying to pull together the shared experiences of this year. Indeed, there is lots to celebrate, in particular the way that you have all embraced the year, particularly over these tricky last few months, where school life has felt very different. I shall miss you all and please come back to see us, when it's safe.. Mrs Matthews
