

Wednesday 17th June 2020

Art – Steven Brown

I really like the artist Steven Brown because his paintings are so bright and colourful and they remind me of Scotland. I have three in my house.

This one is really big and is at the top of my stairs. It's called Isla and Arran McCoo.

This is the Isle of Arran that you can see from the beach in Ayr, which is where I grew up and where, my family still live.

These ones are called Auld Scottie McCoo and Rabbie McCoo.

The cottage in the picture is in the village I grew up in. It's called Burn's Cottage and a famous poet called Robert Burns lived there. He wrote a song called Auld Lang Syne, which people all over the world sing at New Year.

Have a go at drawing or painting your own McCoo.